TWO BROOKLYN BOYS KILLED IN ACTION; TWO OTHERS WOUNDED

Browne Had Served in Naval Reserve Before Being Drafted for Army.

"It is the fortune of war," said Mrs. William Browne, No. 6420 Eighteenth Avenue, Brooklyn, to-day when she received a War Department telegram announcing that her son, George J. Browne, had been killed in action in France on May 1.

"My boy has served from the beginning," she said. "At first he was an ensign in the Naval Reserve and they had him doing censor work on cablegrams for he was an expert telegraph operator."

But he was needed more in France, apparently, for he was drafted last November and soon went to France and was attached to the signal section headquarters. In his last letter home he said he was "having the time of his life."

John Maciejewicz, reported killed in action, lived with a brother, Charles, at No. 300 Metropolitan Avenue, Williamsburg, until he enlisted.

The War Department telegram telling of the death of Cairo was received by his parents yesterday at their home in Whitman Street, Fort Lee.

In 1916 Cairo, a local baseball star, broke both ankles in sliding for the home plate with a winning run for his team. The ankles mended, but they showed the fractures, and when, just after the United States entered the war, Cairo was examined in a New York recruiting office, the surgeons shook their heads.

"Think I'm a cripple, do you?" said the boy. "Look."

He turned a series of handspins, and they accepted him. When he got to France and there was nothing in No Man's Land, he ran through a barrage to rescue an officer who had been wounded and isolated. Then he ran back through the same barrage, bringing the officer with him. That was when he won the Cross of War.

Cairo's brother, Alfred, although above draft age, enlisted in the aviation service and is understood to be somewhere in France.

N. Y. BOY KILLED AT FRONT, NEWS KEPT FROM MOTHER

Mrs. La Mont Too Ill to Be Told of Son's Death in Action in France.

Edward H. La Mont's mother has not yet been told that her boy was killed in action in France on May 7, although a War Department telegram stating the fact was delivered last night at the La Mont home, No. 232 Nepperhan Avenue, Yonkers. It was the father, Joseph La Mont, who received the message, and he kept it from the mother because she has been ill for several weeks. The news was kept also from the mother's sister, Charlotte, who is dangerously ill with pneumonia.

La Mont joined an infantry regiment last June and went to France about three months ago. He was twenty-two years old, a native of New York City. He has a brother working for the Remington Arms Company.

with the 22d Infantry of Brooklyn a year ago and went to France with the Rainbow Division in November. He was twenty-three years old and had come from Poland to this country six years before he became a soldier.

The brother whom Maciejewicz had supported and was forced to leave alone is dying of consumption and under the care of neighbors.

John W. Lafferty, mentioned as seriously wounded, is a volunteer, 41 years old, formerly of No. 413 Bleeker Street, Brooklyn, where he lived with his brother, Vincent. In Detroit last year he enlisted and went to France in June. The War Department telegram says he was wounded on April 23.

Patrick J. McHugh, No. 306 Fifth Street, Brooklyn, was a machinist at the Morse Dry Dock until last November, when he was drafted. He sailed for France in January, sent home a letter saying that he was "in the trenches and feeling fine," and nothing more was heard from him until to-day, when a War Department telegram came to his sister, Mrs. Mary Brown, with whom he formerly lived, saying that he had been seriously wounded in action.

Sergt. David Silverman, whose name appears among the severely wounded, enlisted in the regular army eight years ago, when he was eighteen years old. He served with Pershing on the Mexican border and went to France with the first contingent of American Expeditionary Force. His brother Louis was drafted last September. Silverman's parents live at No. 2001 Bergen Street, Brooklyn.

A great deal of fighting again took place around our bombing machines. Sixteen German airplanes were destroyed and two driven down out of control. Two observation balloons also were destroyed. Three of our airplanes are missing.

"During the night both ours and the enemy's bombing airplanes were active. Over twelve tons of bombs were dropped on airfields used by the enemy's night-flying machines and on billets at Bray and Bapaume. All our machines returned. Two German machines were brought down by gunfire behind our lines.

"Two tons of bombs were dropped on a chloride factory at Mannheim, causing three large fires, and another two tons on railway stations at Thionville and Karlsruhe. One of our machines failed to return.

"At dawn Wednesday two formations set out on a long distance raid to bombard the important railway triangle at Liege. All the machines reached their objectives and dropped twenty-two heavy bombs. Those dropped by the first formation caused three very large fires, which were burning fiercely three-quarters of an hour later when the second formation flew over Liege. Other machines dropped twelve heavy bombs on the railway stations at Metz. All the machines returned."

"As the British air forces develop," says the Daily Mail, "we shall be able to reach every city of Western and Central Germany and compel the enemy to weaken his front greatly by detaching large air forces for defense at home. The German Staff is well aware of this risk, which will increase greatly when the American air forces have arrived in strength later this year. The fast growing strength of the Allies in the air will be used with increasing vigor and will play a very large part in bringing the war home to the German nation."

With the filing of a deed yesterday in the Register's office, Brooklyn, by the Lowell Palmer estate to the Greenport Improvement Company, it was said that 1,750 feet of Greenport water front involved in the transaction is to be used for the erection of a $5,000,000 shipyard. The property transferred is adjacent to the Greenpoint terminal of the State Barge Canal.

T. S. Representative in Rome for Italy Day.

ROME, Wednesday, May 22.—Hamilton of New York who will represent the United States in the celebration of the anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war, arrived here today. He was welcomed at the station by Government officials.

On Tuesday night German aviators attempted to raid Paris, but were kept away from the city by the French defenses. One of the raiders was brought down. Three persons were killed and several wounded in the outskirts of the city.
